Hi!

Field Fisher Waterhouse (FFW) were the solicitors bring the case for Gillian, although they always kept the families at a distance and said that it was their proceedings not the families'. I think that the GMC's barrister was Mr Kark.

Please do not worry about trying to print it off. We have not done that hear either because the volume of material is enormous. It rather backs up the view that a public enquiry is needed. Its difficult to see how any private client has the resources for an analysis of that volume of information. Hence the current situation.

I assume you will speak with Gillian about this. Thanks again for your help.
Best wishes

God almighty John. I see what you mean. IT would take me a week to print all these off.

For the time being I'll just store.

One question though. Unless I've missed it, I could not see which of the lawyers was representing Gillian. Could you clarify?

Regards
