It occurs to me that we might well have to explore the inadequacies of the trust to some extent through the interrogation of Turnbull and Tubritt. It could work well both ways if that aspect could be confined to those witnesses only (if only for the record and to support any future claim for compensation), and in that way keep focus on the culprits.

Dear John,

Further to yesterday's meeting with Tom Leeper, please find attached my written reasons for calling additional witnesses. Please do your best on this or we might never get to the truth.

Will send my witness questionnaires later this morning for passing on to Tom.
