my watch the time is exactly eleven o'clock (11.00). This interview is being conducted in an interview room at Fareham Police Station. At it's conclusion I'll give you a notice explaining what happens to the tapes. All the time you're in the room here Philip, you're entitled to free legal advice, Mr (Code A)'s here to provide you with that. If at any time you want to stop the interview to take some advice or to talk to Mr (Code A) let me know and I'll stop the interview, also today you've come here voluntarily which means you're not under arrest and if at any time that you feel you just want to get up and go then that is your right.

Okay?

Okay, yeah.

Right, before I start to question you at all, I have to go through and give you what we call a caution and that is, that you do not have to say anything but it may harm your defence if you do not mention when questioned something which you later rely on in court and anything you do say may be given in evidence. Do you understand the caution?

	DS Code A	Right, are you happy with that Mr Code A ?
	SOLICITOR	That's pretty good for somebody who's never been questioned

	DS Code A	That's pretty good and it's probably a better understanding than light would indicate when monitoring is taking place. At no other

	BEED	Yeah I'm a Clinical Manager which is the Charge Nurse in charge

	DS Code A	there are occasions when you cope? In your own estimation

	DS Code A	Okay. Can you tell me about named nurses and what that's all

19.32	BEED	The named nurse is actually the nurse with the specific or four patients erm and that nurse will be responsible for generally overseeing the patients care so any major change that

Various medications we can use it for but the most common one is for pain control, sedation and control of secretions when people are erm in a great deal of pain and usually when they're having palliative care which is when we would recognise that the patient's dying and erm that death is a painful process for them erm so we usually use analgesia, sedatives and sometimes erm medicine to erm reduce secretions erm and it loaded into the driver, delivered subcutaneously over 24 hours so the patient always has a continuous amount erm of pain relief, we can vary that amount according to the patients needs reducing it or increasing it er if the patient is either sedated or is in pain er and we can monitor that very carefully erm and change it quite effectively and the benefit for the patient is that they get continuous pain relief and shouldn't become anxious or in pain at any time once we've got the dose right and maintained it at the right level. Erm they do start getting any pain it's not in...they're not in absolute agony and a lot of pain because it's usually what we call breakthrough pain which is when they're just getting a little bit of pain but obvi...so they're obviously not quite enough analgesia erm rather than the full pain they would be in if they...if they'd had a four hourly dose of analgesia which had worn off erm or not had any analgesia whatsoever.

Right you used the term over sedated, how would you know if someone's over sedated?

Erm it would depend what sort of care you're giving to the patient 'cos usually with palliative care people erm the level of sedation that keeps them pain free, keeps them sedated and, and conscious or semi-conscious but sometimes you might use it for other reasons so if we were us...we often use a drug called midazolam for people who are fitting erm and we can give that via a syringe driver erm and in that case we'd want to prevent fits but we wouldn't want to erm like render the patient unconscious so we,

BEED

So initially if the patient reaches that point, I mean that may be 20 odd hours away from seeing a doctor but are you empowered to move to palliative care without reference to the doctor?

Yeah, I mean we could, we could call a doctor if we needed to erm but we would have discussed the patients ongoing care and prognosis and outlook on each occasion we saw the doctor so we are empowered to initiate a syringe driver erm because what would have happened is on a previous occasion when they've been reviewed by the doctor where the patient hasn't been looking good erm we think their condition may deteriorate erm and the syringe driver would be written up or have been written up and the instruction would be if this patient condition worsens and you
