General Medical Council (GMC)

The case of one doctor was considered by the Interim Orders Committee of the GMC in June 2001 and following receipt of the police expert witness reports, again in March 2002. This committee has the power to suspend or place conditions on a doctor's registration. Interim orders do not constitute a finding and can be made to protect the public pending an investigation. No suspension order has been made, the GMC are currently deciding whether to proceed further.
