Its me again, seeking your invaluable advice!!!!

I have had a letter from Alexander Harris Solicitors - asking "just to clarify the position as regards litigation, we would be obliged if you would have no objection to granting an extension of time in which to issue proceedings of three months from the date following the conclusion of the above enquiries."

this is a case caught up in the ongoing police investigation of GWMH, following which it will be considered by the GMC. From looking at the file it doesn't appear that Caroline has yet reported this to the NHSLA.

What is your view? should I send it all to the NHSLA and let them make the decision? help!
