Loved ones deserve truth and justice...

PROBE Gosport's War Memorial Hospital

With reference to the letter from Pamela Milner last Friday, May 3, headlined 'Doctor is a scapegoat', she asks has anyone ever considered Dr Barton in all of this?

Yes, the GMC (eventually) after 12 years, considered Dr Barton's actions in 2010.

I believe they noted her intransigence, decided they could not agree that she did not continue to present a risk to patients, and found her guilty of multiple counts of serious professional misconduct.

I believe they found her anticipatory prescribing to be inappropriate, potentially hazardous and not in her patient's best interests. So, I suggest that what Mrs Mackenzie and Mrs O'Brien ultimately hoped to achieve does indeed amount to two words.

I believe those words are TRUTH and JUSTICE for their family and all the other families who complained of the standard of care, or lack of it, towards their loved ones while at Gosport War Memorial Hospital all those years ago.

They should be applauded for pursuing both, however long that takes.
