

New Bishop set to be enthroned on Sunday

THE NEW Bishop of Chichester will be enthroned on Sunday.

Dr Martin Warner will be inaugurated in a ceremony at Chichester Cathedral from 3.30pm.

He was appointed in May after the outgoing bishop, John Hind, retired in April after 11 years in the role.

The 53-year-old keen cyclist, described as a traditionalist, said: 'It is a daunting and exciting challenge to be asked to serve the people of Sussex as the next Bishop of Chichester. I look forward very much to learning more about the mission in which we shall be engaging together.'

In September he spoke out saying lessons must be learned from the Archbishop of Canterbury's damning report on child abuse within the Chichester Diocese, saying: 'We have much to learn from all that has happened and must be humble in doing so, accepting our failures, responding with honesty and penitence, and demonstrating proper and appropriate engagement with those who are the victims of criminal and sub-Christian behaviour.'

'No surprise' as delay in inquest announced

Daughter told more time is needed to find suitable venue

by PRIYA MISTRY
Health reporter
priya.mistry@themews.co.uk

A DAUGHTER who won the right to have an inquest heard into her mother's death at a hospital has been told the hearing is to be delayed.

After campaigning for 14 years, Gillian MacKenzie was due to attend an inquest into the death of her mother, Gladys Richards, next month.

It was set for December 3, but now will not take place until next year.

The Portsmouth coroner's office told her it needs to find a more suitable venue which has better facilities for the hard of hearing and to cope with the large number of people Mrs MacKenzie says

INQUEST Gillian MacKenzie is angry that the inquest into the death of her mother, Gladys Richards, has been delayed will be attending.

Mrs MacKenzie said: 'Nothing surprises me anymore.'

'I hope I'm still alive when they finalise the date - I have no intention of going anywhere.'

'It's been 14-and-a-half years since my mother died, and almost four years since the inquest was granted.'

'I will just have to wait a little longer.'

Mrs Richards, 91, died at Gosport War Memorial Hospital in 1998.

Hers was one of a string of deaths there that sparked police investigations.

After relentless campaigning, the then Home Secretary Jack Straw granted an inquest in January 2009.

A pre-inquest hearing is due to take place on December 12, with an announcement of the new inquest date to be given afterwards.

As previously reported in The News, Mrs Richards was taken to the Royal Haslar Hospital after she suffered a fall in Glen Heather's care home. After an operation, Mrs Richards was transferred to Gosport War Memorial Hospital, in Bury Road, for rehabilitation. During the course of her treatment she was given painkillers.

She died under the care of Dr Jane Barton.

Following Mrs Richards' death, her daughter approached police with concerns over her mother's care. It was this case that prompted an investigation by Hampshire Constabulary into deaths at the hospital.

Inquests into the deaths of five other patients at the hospital took place in 2009.

A jury ruled that drugs prescribed by Dr Barton contributed to the deaths.

Don't Sell Your Gold & Silver

Until You've Had a FREE Offer From Us

Paying up to £14.85 per gram

Bring your gold & silver along to us for a no obligation cash offer and you will receive all of these items absolutely FREE even if you decide not to sell

A copy of our new book "Selling your gold for the maximum cash"

A jewellers eye glass to help you identify hallmarks

A lottery scratch card with a chance to win thousands of £'s

A voucher for a tea or coffee in a local coffee shop

To qualify for this fantastic offer you MUST bring this coupon along with you. Valid one per person. Offer ends 1st December 2012

36 North Street, Havant
Tel: 023 9245 0464

Near the train station - Next door to Heidi's Bakery - Free on street parking

www.cashshop.co.uk

