Don't duck apology, Sir Peter

In view of revelations at the General Medical Council fitness-to-practice hearing - in particular management of Daedalus Ward, I hope Sir Peter Viggers is not going to duck out of etiquette and still refuse to apologise to the families concerned with the Gosport War Memorial Hospital.

I continue to expect lunch at the House of Commons and his apology in the House, reported in Hansard, after all, that is where he mentioned me in very derogatory terms years ago.
