SUBJECT: OPERATION ROCHESTER

DATE: 30/10/2002

Sir,

At 1200 hours on Wednesday 30th October 2002 (30/10/2002), I visited Gail BRAGGINTON (Nee ATTREE), Code A

Code A in relation to her contacting the Gosport War Memorial Hospital information line. Also present was her sister Ann ATTREE, Code A

Code A

Their concerns involved the treatment of their mother Lily ATTREE (Code A) (85 yrs) who had been admitted to the hospital sometime in July 1996 from a nursing home called 'Trelill', Anglesea Road, Alverstoke, Gosport (now called Beachcroft).

Their mother was then admitted to the hospital and placed in an upstairs ward, they not being able to remember the name, other than it was a naval base name from the local area.

Both daughters confirm that this time their mother was walking, eating and not suffering any pain.

Again neither can remember the date, but approximately two weeks after their mothers admission, daughter Code A knows, this wasn't the case.

On the Saturday that week, her other daughter Ann visited her and found her well and indeed fed her mother whilst she was there and ensured that she was not in any pain.

Ann again visited on the Sunday to see her mother and found that her mother was now Code A

The following day both Ann and Gail are at the hospital and Code A challenged a male doctor in anger and said to him "You are killing my mother, you're filling her with drugs until you kill her".

His reply to this was "That's your opinion" and he walked off.

They describe this doctor as being in his late 50's, approximately 5'7" tall, of medium build, grey hair and looking rather dapper in a suit.

Both daughters are of the opinion that their mother had more life in her, albeit 2 weeks, 2 months or whatever but her death on 24th August 1996 (24/08/1996) was premature and caused by the over use of drugs. Actual cause of death given as cancer of the tongue and pneumonia.

Both daughters will state that their mother never complained of pain nor were they consulted about her medication.

Attached to this report are a few notes on a single A4 piece of paper written by Gail BRAGGINTON. Submitted for information.

Although Mrs Attree was noted as 1A by Robin Ferner ("RF"), Peter Lawson ("PL") and Irene Waters ("IW") she was assessed as A2 by Anne Naismith ("AN").

In AN's Assessment Note, she notes that

In view of the comment that death may have been accelerated by some days I would advise that this case should not be continued to be categorised as 1A.
