I visited Eileen GOITCH at her home address at 1500, Thursday 18th Feb 04 (18/02/2004) in relation to her mother Lilian Madeline Victoria TAYLOR b. [REDACTED] Code A - 14/02/2000.

I explained the reason for the delay in our contacting her to obtain details and note her concerns. She is happy knowing that the relevant records will be retrieved and analysed. Mrs TAYLOR ([REDACTED] Code A) had been married to [REDACTED] Code A and had three children, [REDACTED] Code A [REDACTED] Code A, [REDACTED] Code A - surname not known. [REDACTED] Code A, address unknown [REDACTED] Code A [REDACTED] Code A and [REDACTED] Code A

Mrs TAYLOR was born in Portsmouth and worked as a tailoress. [REDACTED] Code A [REDACTED] Code A The family moved to London and Lilian worked on the seagoing liners as a stewardess.

She retired at 60 and moved to Gosport where her GP was Dr BARTON and her last address was [REDACTED] Code A [REDACTED] Code A She is known to have suffered from high blood pressure and had a goyter removed from her neck.

Mrs GOITCH recalls that her mother was not happy with Dr BARTON and had complained that she had refused to come to Mrs TAYLOR's house on a number of occasions when she had been called.

On 11th December 1999 (11/12/1999) Mrs GOITCH called her mother to wish her a happy birthday to discover that her mother was unwell and an ambulance had been called by a neighbours Dr after Dr BARTON had refused to attend when her mother had been taken ill.

Mrs GOITCH remembers on one occasion phoning the GWMH and being told that her mother had been taken back to Haslar and then discovering that she had been returned to the GWMH on the same day. She wasn't told the reason for this.

Mrs GOITCH son Nick, rang the hospital in order to speak with Dr BARTON, the family had concerns as to the speed of Mrs TAYLOR's deterioration. Dr BARTON told him "Well if you've got a complaint report me".

Mrs TAYLOR's cause of death is given as:
