I telephoned Code C at 1300hrs on Thursday 17th February..

His main complaint was that the Portsmouth News had printed an article suggesting that the casefile in respect of his Code C had been passed to the Crown Prosecution Service and that the investigation had not the courtesy to inform him.

I responded by setting the record straight, that we received notice of the article (not the content) on the day of publication, and that the article tended to misrepresent the situation particularly in terms of the numbers of cases under investigation, the numbers submitted to CPS and the timescales. The reporting had been speculative.. probably upon the basis that the police had given little fresh information to the media..

I informed Code C that the investigation would continue throughout 2005, and that the focus was soon to fall onto his father case, as a category 3. I went into detail regarding the thoroughness of the investigation, the detailed ongoing expert appraisal, and the volume of enquiries generally. I added that he was soon to receive a written update from DI NIVEN.

I concluded that I had telephoned personally as a courtesy given that he was one of a small number complaining about the level of contact and investigation progress. He agreed not to reveal to other family members or the media our contact, and we concluded on cordial terms.

David..

As discussed.. We agreed some time prior to this call that Code C was the next case to be actioned given the KCT members had graded as a 3b across the board..

Re - The death of Code C

Thank you for your letters of the 18th November and 26th November 2004, raising your concerns in respect of the care afforded to your Code C prior to Code C and the final category 2 assessment by the multi-disciplinary panel of experts examining your mothers case.

You have received general feedback from the legal/medico lawyer commissioned to independently quality assure the findings of the panel of experts.

I can add that the experts took the view in your Code C case that Code C suffered Code A Code A It was difficult to assess whether the dose of Code A needed increasing in the last 24 hours but overall the use of opiates appeared appropriate. Code C would have died without Code A being used.

I take on board your concerns and confirm that I have received your enclosures highlighting issues around:-

1. The apparent readiness for the war memorial hospital to prescribe opiate analgesia to your mother shortly after her admission, and the appropriateness of imposing this drug regime, particularly at the levels administered.
2. The issues around pain levels being experienced by your Code C
3. The issue that your Code C was not treated for dehydration on 17th November 1998.
4. That generally your Code C did not receive reasonable medical and nursing care after her transfer to Gosport War Memorial Hospital on 11th November 1998.

I will ensure that copies of these papers are forwarded to the General Medical Council and Nursing and Midwifery Council who are conducting their own investigations into the care afforded to category 2 patients at Gosport War Memorial Hospital and the conduct of healthcare professionals.

Finally whilst I appreciate that you do not accept the views of the multidisciplinary panel in terms of their assessment, the police have used this process to determine whether or not there is a sufficiency of evidence to justify ongoing criminal investigation.

To prove criminal allegations in respect of the death of your mother requires proof of gross negligence and a standard of care more than minimally contributing towards your mother death, there is not a sufficiency of suspicion or evidence to meet this standard.

Upon the basis that your Code C has been assessed of dying through natural causes there is no realistic prospect of a criminal conviction in this case.
