Dear Ann,

Thank you for the letter of the 26th September and the enclosed minutes of the meeting.

I have indicated as requested when I am available in the coming week on your form and enclosed it.

I would like to bring a couple of matters to your attention with regards your letter, firstly in paragraph eight, headed 'our charges' you mention the investigation into my mothers death. My mother thankfully, is alive and well it is my father, Robert Caldwell Wilson who's death you have offered to investigate. Please do not make this mistake again.

Also in that paragraph you talk about costs in the future. This I was some what surprised at, during the meeting on Saturday 21st September, to my recollection you said that we would not have to pay charges and that in fact your company would act on our behalf at no cost.

Please can you explain if there are to be charges and if so, what these are likely to amount to.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully
