St James' Hospital

Dear Lesley

Enclosed is a copy of the section on the Chelsea & Westminster Trust from the Medical Directory and a cutting from this week's Hospital Doctor outlining the number of beds in each of the London Trusts.

I have calculated that for its 460 beds Chelsea & Westminster Hospital has 46 general medical and surgical consultants, or 78 consultants, if one includes other inpatient specialties such as obstetrics and paediatrics.

The Department of Medicine for Elderly People has 429 inpatient beds covered by 8 consultants. The Chelsea and Westminster Healthcare Trust averages under 6 beds per consultant. The Portsmouth Elderly Medicine consultants average 53 beds per consultant. It would seem therefore that Professor Livesley's world is somewhat different from ours.

I wonder if the Crown prosecution service are aware that their expert witness practices in an environment seemingly very privileged compared to Portsmouth and other District General Hospitals.

I do not see how Professor Livesley can give an inbiassed view coming from a privileged teaching hospital setting; one I believe without any community hospital beds.

Yours sincerely
