This is the best I could achieve. You will have your meeting on Thursday 13th 15.30-16.30 in your office with two from CHI one a lay person the second a manager. On Friday 14th you have another slot 11-12 in your office with the review manager. In some ways this is not a bad way of doing it (in my view) in that it will give you time to reflect on what is raised on Thursday if you need to follow issues through. I appreciate it is not entirely what you wanted, I tried the dinner option but they do a lot of visits in the evenings and that is when they also review findings of the day, hence not taking up that offer. I will send you a copy of the biography of the review team when I get it.
