Phoned Dr Jarrett to clarify some details. On holiday. Dr Reid may be able to help, & will call back.

The figures as provided tend to show a decline in mortality rates in Daedalus & Dryad crabs 2001/2. The data before then are patchy, but tend to show mortality rates that are not dissimilar to the range of the other units. However, to check this, I need to know what calculations have been done, and what the column headings in the primary data tables mean.
